MARBLE MURTIS · JAIPUR, INDIA

Jain pratimas in marble for derasars, jinalays and home shrines

SA-JAI-01 Jain Murti Parshwanath · H 9 × W 6 × D 3 in

FOR DERASAR & TEMPLE COMMITTEES

For more than 25 years, Swarnim Arts has carved marble murtis in Jaipur. Our pratimas are installed in many Jain mandirs.

Every pratima is carved entirely by hand. We work in Makrana, Vietnam and Jhiri marble, black stone and other stones, at the height your jinalay needs, and our own team packs each piece to export standards.

FREE VIDEO CONSULTATION

Any enquiry, however small, can begin with a free video call on Zoom or Google Meet: see pieces, discuss sizes and ask questions before you decide. Trustees and your architect can join the same call.

- Pratimas quoted individually, including packing and shipping.
- We reply within 6 hours, and are on call 24/7.

CARVED TO YOUR SANGH'S TRADITION

Tell us the iconography your sangh and acharya specify, Svetambara or Digambara: posture (padmasana or kayotsarga), lanchhan, parikar and other details. We carve the pratima to that specification.

Share your pratishtha muhurat at the start, and we will plan carving, packing and delivery around it. Timing is estimated once we know the deity, height, posture and finish.

FOR A QUOTATION

What to send us

Every pratima for a derasar or jinalay is quoted individually. These details let us quote accurately.

- The Bhagwan, or the devi or dev, and whether the pratima is the mulnayak or for a side shrine.
- Tradition, Svetambara or Digambara, with posture, lanchhan and parikar as your acharya specifies.
- Height of the pratima, and the measurements of the gabhara, sinhasan or niche.
- The stone and finish you prefer, with reference photographs or drawings if you have them.
- Your pratishtha muhurat and the delivery address.

How it proceeds

1. Your enquiry, with the details on the left.
2. A free video consultation on Zoom or Google Meet, to see pieces and discuss proportions.
3. Our quotation, including packing and shipping. Timing is estimated once we know the deity, height, posture and finish.
4. For made-to-order murtis, payment is in three stages: 50% advance to begin the work, 25% once carving is complete and before packing, and the balance before dispatch. For larger projects we agree a schedule with the committee.
5. Carving by hand, export packing by our own team, and dispatch.

Stone and size

We work in Makrana, Vietnam and Jhiri marble, black stone and other stones. Every pratima is carved entirely by hand, at whatever height your project needs.

Packing and delivery

Our own specialised team packs every pratima to industrial export packing standards, chosen for its size, weight and delicacy, for delivery in India or abroad.
